December 2006

Greetings,

It seems that this year has flown by and Christmas is here again. But this year has brought many opportunities for service. I want to take some time to remember some of them.

We began the year by helping a church that was a victim of Hurricane Katrina in Gulfport, Mississippi. This was truly an eye opening experience. We were able to help this pastor get back into his home and work on the remaining church building. Generally, the people were more open to the gospel and we had numerous opportunities to witness and give out tracts.

The next few weeks were spent on a whirlwind trip out west. We shared our ministry in many new churches and helped out some old friends on the Tohono O'dham Indian Reservation.

When we arrived back down south, we helped a church in Georgia completely remodel a house to use as a mission/staff home. This saved the church several thousand dollars. They were able to use this money in other ministries. Also in Georgia, we worked at a youth camp where we saw nine young people saved in the first week of camp.

These were happy occasions but there have been some sad times as well. Please keep those missionary families that have lost loved ones this year in your prayers. They are the Mark Zimmer family and the Joel Dickens family.

There have been many times of thankfulness to the Lord for His care and blessing. My dental problems have been resolved and my knee is healing nicely. God is continuing to provide in each situation.

It is our prayer that you will all take time during this holiday season to count the ways that God has blessed you and be thankful to Him. Share these testimonies with others and use them to witness to the unsaved.

May God bless you with a joyous Christmas season and give you a very Happy New Year.

Merry Christmas,

Jack & Melinda
