Dear Praying Family and Friends,

Deputation Blessings

In the past few months the Lord has given us the opportunity to have meetings in VA, WV, GA, AL, NC, and SC. We have thoroughly been impressed with the pastors and the churches we have had the privilege of visiting. We have been overwhelmed and humbled by the generous sacrifices God's people have made on our behalf. Meeting fellow Christians has been a special blessing. It is exciting to be able to go into a church and immediately have fellowship because of the common bond of Jesus Christ. As our youngest daughter has vividly expressed on numerous occasions, the one sad thing has been to make friends and then to have to leave them. Of course, one day there will be a great reunion where all saved will be there to meet our Blessed Saviour, face to face.

The Little (Big) Things

I am thankful we serve an "Abba" Father who is interested in each of us as His children, and cares for each of us as individuals. He has supplied many specific needs, both large and small, but one in particular comes to mind. On our way to a missions conference in AL, we stopped overnight at a campground. The next day when leaving for the meeting we discovered that somehow a power surge had fried our 40 amp adapter. We finished our trip, arrived and set up at the church, and searched quickly in stores for a replacement. The first store we stopped at did not carry the part; the second had the part available, but was out of stock. Running out of time before the evening service was to start, we hurried back to the church and found that one of the only other places likely to have the part was closed.

However, God had already looked ahead in time and provided. One of the men of the church upon hearing our situation relayed that the day before, while driving home from work, his son had seen an electrical adapter lying on the side of the road and had thrown it in the back of his truck. Wouldn't you know, it was the exact part we needed in order to have power that night!

Thank you so much for your prayers and support.
