“I will sing unto the LORD, because he hath dealt bountifully with me.” Psalm 13:6

Well, the past few months have been very busy for us. Through all of the visits, trips, and meetings, God has really blessed us. It is wonderful to be able to meet so many more of our Christian co-laborers and establish relationships with them. It has also been a great encouragement to have more churches promising to partner with us to reach out to the Mexican people.

We are very excited to see that, as things stand, we need about ten more churches to support us to meet the minimal level needed for us to ship out. If we could get more funding than that, it would go into a work fund to give more flexibility in church-planting and the college ministry. Anyway, with the way that things are falling into place we are beginning to make plans to move.

We have started getting rid of some household items, condensing others, and looking into getting passports for the kids. At the beginning of deputation we would have never imagined that we might ever see an end to it, but here we are. Facing the reality that, Lord willing, we will soon be able to move is rather strange, exciting, and yet a bit frightening. Pray with us about a target date for moving; we are very seriously considering January 2013

The Lord has presented an opportunity for me to travel with Missionary Jerry Shaw into Mexico at the end of July. Since he needs help moving a van that was donated to him, I volunteered to make the trip with him. It will not only help him out, but it will help me learn how the border crossing works. Please, pray for our safety on the road as we will be covering 2,000 miles one way.

Beside the trip to Mexico, the Summer schedule is very busy like everyone else's. If God permits we will be involved in a couple VBS programs, a youth camp, and more meetings in the upcoming months. Oh, and lest I forget to mention it for those that don't keep up with Brittany on Facebook, we did find out that we are expecting a baby girl some time in November.

Well, that is what is happening with us. We are very grateful for your continued prayer and support as we come closer to reaching the field. Please, do pray that we have wisdom as we try to finish deputation and make preparations to move.

In His Service,
Fred Daniel, III
