

March 15, 2016

First Quarter, 2016

Dear friends,

It is an honor to serve the Lord on your behalf. Thank you for your prayers and sacrificial investments which allow us to fulfill the calling of God in our lives. Your prayers keep us safe, and your investments keep us serving. We could not assist, train, encourage and serve over 100 missionary families without you.

In January, God gave me the opportunity to visit one of our families in Alaska. The Wyricks serve amongst the Russians and Americans in Delta Junction, Alaska. God allowed a time for fellowship, prayer, and encouragement. The Bible Baptist Church in Fairbanks invited me to come and help celebrate their Pastor's 40th anniversary at the church. The Lord clearly met with us.

Our agency recently added three missionary families. My role in the missionary's application process is to review all their information, usually about 40 pages in length. Our agency gathers doctrinal, academic, ecclesiastical, and personal information about each candidate. The most recent missionaries added will work with Youth in America, Afghanis in New York, and Spaniards in Spain. The vetting process of missionary work helps churches know the missionary they are getting is solid and capable.

We just moved 80% of our Missionary Orientation School to an online course. Brother Whetstone, our mission agency President, and I worked together on the instruction which resulted in more than 20 hours of video training. This work allows our missionaries to go from approval to training immediately. We will be adding more classes this year to the curriculum.

A part of my ministry is representing the cause of missions and helping churches get their missionaries to the mission field. This quarter, I have visited six states from Alaska to West Virginia promoting missions and helping churches reach their mission giving goals.

Our family is well and in good health. Kim continues her ministry in the missions office. We both thank you for helping us touch the world with the Gospel.

Serving Him,

John O'Malley