WORLD WIDE NEW TESTAMENT BAPTIST MISSIONS

April 2012

It was a great blessing to be in Myanmar again last month. Pastor Barry Goodman, Dr. John O'Malley, and I were blessed to preach to more than 150 college students and to many faithful servants from all over Myanmar. Two hundred years ago, Adoniram Judson took the Gospel to the golden shores of Burma (Myanmar). You can still see the effects of the Gospel after all these years. We also had the joy of participating in the graduation at the college. This school has trained many young people that are now serving Christ in many towns and villages across the country.

We are pleased to be serving with Abraham Ram Lian Uk (pictured with me). He and his brothers each have started a church, and, at the same time, are laboring together with the college. All of the students must learn English. Since there are one hundred and thirty-five languages in this one country, it was necessary for them to settle on one language for the school. Most theological material is in English, so these students are advantaged by learning a language that will help them in their studies of the Scripture.

I am now scheduled to have a total hip replacement on May 8. I had the right one done about ten years ago, and now the left one is ready. I hope to be back in meetings in three weeks, as I did the last time. Please pray that all goes well.

A gentleman from Northern India, near Bangladesh and the Chin State of Myanmar, came to the conference in Yangon last month. He is pleading for us to come to his city to have a conference with the Baptist pastors there. Please pray that everything will come together to make this happen. He says that the pastors are being influenced by others that are leading them in the wrong direction.

Darleen and I are so grateful for your kind support of our family and ministry. It has been our joy to serve full time with World Wide New Testament Baptist Missions since June 1985. Many of you have stood by us for most of that time. We appreciate your faithfulness to the Lord.
